

ABOUT ME

Hi! I'm Mya, a 15-year-old actress based in Kansas City with over 7 years of acting experience. Performing has always been one of my biggest passions—I love stepping into new roles and bringing stories to life. Along with acting, I also enjoy writing screenplays and recently started writing books to explore storytelling from a different angle. When I'm not on stage or writing, you can usually find me playing video games, spending time with friends, managing my mom's business social media, or meeting new people. I'm a total extrovert who loves to socialize and connect with others both on and off set.
